Muga Rosé, D.O. Rioja

The Producer

Over the years, Muga wines have gained international recognition and acclaim. Meticulously faithful to their traditional wine-making methods, Bodegas Muga use French and American oak vats and casks throughout the entire process. The vineyards are located in the Oja and Tirón river valleys of La Rioja Alta, but the winery itself is based on the outskirts of Haro, the historical home of La Rioja's most prestigious bodegas. Bodegas Muga have been a family business ever since its creation in 1932.

General information

Type of wine: Rose Wine

Alcohol Content: 13.5%

Grape Variety: Garnacha and Viura.

Origin: Rioja

Tasting notes

What stands out in the Muga Rosado is its pale, rose-pink colour. It is very intense and complex on the nose, with an initial gush of peach, strawberry and white blossom notes. On the palate it proves a wine with very well integrated acidity, volume, balanced fruit and a very long finish. In the aftertaste we can detect stone fruit and also citrus nuances.

Pavina Rosé, D.O. Castilla y León

The Producer	Alta Pavina defies expectations in Ribera del Duero with its high-altitude (3,000+ ft), cool-climate Pinot Noir vineyard. This 100% Pinot rosé is a remarkable feat for a region known for heat and aridity
General information	Alcohol Content: 13% Grape Variety: 100% Pinot Noir Origin: Castilla y León Vinification: Hand-harvested, destemmed, and lightly crushed, the grapes undergo a brief 4–6 hour maceration. Fermentation unfolds in stainless steel tanks with native yeast at a cool 12°C to preserve freshness.
Tasting notes	A vibrant rosé bursting with ripe strawberries, watermelon, and peach, layered with chalky minerality. The nose suggests richness, but the palate delivers crisp focus - bright acidity and lean structure balance the fruit intensity. Bone-dry with a refreshing, textured finish
Price	Bottle £42

Protos Aire Rosé, D.O. Cigales

The Producer	Since 1927, producer's mission has been to honor our "Being First" philosophy—relentlessly pursuing excellence by respecting the terroir while innovating for the future.
General information	Alcohol Content: 13.5% Grape Variety: Tempranillo (60%), Garnacha (10%), Albillo (10%), Verdejo (5%), Sauvignon Blanc (5%) and Syrah (5%) Origin: Cigales Vinification: Subsequent aging with regular agitation of lees for 2 or 3 months. Fermentation in stainless steel tanks.
Tasting notes	This pale rosé with purplish hues offers delicate aromas of white fruit, flowers, and wild berries. Silky and fruity, it pairs beautifully with light salads, Asian cuisine, or seafood dishes like tuna and prawn risotto.
